

Homepage Hero Rebuild

Squarespace 7.1 implementation. Hero section only.
Approximately 30–45 minutes of work, including the QA pass.

1. Visual target

Build the Soulstice homepage hero to look like this. The background here is a CSS simulation — in production it's a real sunrise photo (see Section 5 for sourcing).

Patient Portal

VIRTUAL THERAPY • CA • NY • AZ • IL

Book a free consult

Key intent: The hero opens with emotional recognition ("Doing well on paper. Carrying more than that.") before the niche kicks in. Subhead names the target audience (working professionals), the three problem areas (career changes, work-life stress, relationships), the services (individual / couples / family), and the differentiator (therapists who've made career transitions themselves).

2. Brand assets

Color palette

Lavender is the primary CTA color. Peach is the eyebrow + accent. Purple is the hover state. Ink is body text and the on-scroll header.

Typography

Family: Montserrat (already installed in the site's Site Styles).

USE	WEIGHT	SIZE
Heading 1 (hero headline)	800 (ExtraBold)	72px desktop / 44px mobile
Subhead (paragraph)	400 (Regular)	19px
Eyebrow (caps line)	500–600	12px, letter-spacing 3.5px
Buttons	600 (Semibold)	15px, letter-spacing 0.5px

Logo

The dark hero background needs a white version of the Soulstice logo (transparent PNG, ~400px wide). Kevin will provide this — if not received, ask before starting.

3. Copy strings (paste exactly as written)

Paste each string exactly — em-dashes, line breaks, and bullet points are intentional.

Header CTA button

Patient Portal

Link to: Soulstice's patient portal (likely SimplePractice). Kevin to provide URL.

Hero eyebrow (small caps line)

VIRTUAL THERAPY · CA · NY · AZ · IL

Use bullet character (·), not period. ALL CAPS.

Hero headline (H1) — two lines, hit Enter between them

Doing well on paper.
Carrying more than that.

Manual line break between the two sentences. No period at the start of line 2.

Hero subhead

Therapy for working professionals — through career changes, work-life stress, and relationships. Individual, couples, and family sessions, with therapists who've lived the same transitions.

Em-dash (—) not hyphen (-). Hyphen in "work-life" is correct.

Hero primary button

Book a free consult

Link to: 15-min consult scheduler (Calendly / intake form / /contact). Kevin to provide URL.

Hero secondary button

Meet our therapists

Link to: /team

4. Step-by-step Squarespace 7.1 build

Step 1 — Header (transparency + Patient Portal label)

Path: click anywhere on the header → Edit Site Header → Style tab.

- Header background: Solid → 0% opacity (Transparent)
- Text + icon color: White
- Reduce header on scroll: ON
- Branding tab → Logo on Image: upload white logo
- Find the header button → relabel to Patient Portal → set URL → save

Step 2 — Replace the existing hero section

- Open Home page in edit mode
- Hover the first section under the header → gear icon → Delete Section
- + Add Section → Banner template (or blank)

Step 3 — Section background image

- Edit Section → Background tab → Image
- Upload Kevin's sunrise photo, or use Squarespace's built-in Unsplash search (see Section 5)
- Drag focal point to the warmest part of the sky

Step 4 — Color overlay

- Same Background tab → Color Overlay → Enable
- Color: Black #000000
- Opacity: 45–55% (start at 50; adjust if text is hard to read)

Step 5 — Section dimensions

- Width: Full width
- Height: Large (or ~85vh)
- Content Alignment: Center / Center (both axes)

Step 6 — Add content blocks (in order, all centered, all white)

1. Text block for eyebrow → paste eyebrow copy → format as 12px Montserrat Medium, letter-spacing 3.5px, color `#FDB99B`, ALL CAPS
2. Text block (Heading 1) → paste H1 (Enter between sentences) → 72px Montserrat ExtraBold, white, line-height 1.05, letter-spacing -0.025em
3. Text block (Paragraph) → paste subhead → 19px Montserrat Regular, white at 88% opacity, max-width 680px
4. Button Group block → two buttons:
 - Primary: `Book a free consult`, solid lavender `#CF8BF3`, white text
 - Secondary: `Meet our therapists`, transparent background + 1.5px white border + white text, links to `/team`

Step 7 — Lock fonts in Site Styles

Path: Site Styles (paint roller icon) → Fonts.

- Headings: Montserrat 700–800
- Paragraph: Montserrat 400
- Buttons: Montserrat 600, letter-spacing 0.5px

Step 8 — Mobile pass

Switch to mobile view (phone icon, top of editor). Verify:

- H1 stacks across two lines
- Subhead wraps without orphan words
- Buttons stack vertically (acceptable)
- Eyebrow not cut off — reduce letter-spacing if needed
- Photo focal point still shows the sunrise

Step 9 — Save, preview, publish

- Save (top right)
- Preview in a new tab — check on real desktop + real phone
- Scroll past the hero to confirm header becomes solid and readable

5. Sunrise photo guidance

If Kevin hasn't provided a photo, use Squarespace's built-in Unsplash search.

SEARCH QUERY	WHAT TO LOOK FOR
sunrise mountains	Pink/orange sky with mountain silhouette. Most cinematic option.
sunrise sky pink purple	Pure-sky shots, no horizon. Abstract color study.
sunrise calm water	Sky reflected in still water. Quieter, doubled color.
golden hour window	Warm interior light. Less literal "sunrise," more "feeling of."
palm sunrise pink	Pink sky + palm silhouette. Matches Soulstice's brand-book reference.

Avoid

- Photos with people. The hero is mood, not subjects.
- Photos with strong centered subjects. Will fight the centered text.
- Cool / blue tones. Will fight the warm brand palette.
- Stock clichés. No coffee cups with steam, no alarm clocks, no laptop on a couch.

6. What to confirm with Kevin before starting

ITEM	WHAT IT IS
Patient Portal URL	The link for existing clients to log in (likely the SimplePractice client portal).
Free consult URL	15-min consult scheduler — Calendly link, intake form, or just <code>/contact</code> .
White logo file	Transparent PNG of the Soulstice wordmark in white, approximately 400px wide.
Sunrise photo (optional)	If Kevin has a specific photo. If not, use Unsplash from Section 5.
Squarespace plan	Confirm Business or higher if you plan to use Code Injection. Personal works for the standard build.

7. QA checklist before marking done

- ☐ Header is transparent over the hero; becomes solid white on scroll
- ☐ White logo visible on the dark hero photo
- ☐ Patient Portal button text correct, links to correct URL
- ☐ Headline reads exactly: "Doing well on paper. Carrying more than that." (with the line break)
- ☐ Subhead matches the copy box exactly (em-dash, not hyphen)
- ☐ Eyebrow is peach color, all caps, letter-spaced
- ☐ Book a free consult button is solid lavender, links to the booking URL
- ☐ Meet our therapists button is outline white, links to /team
- ☐ Mobile view: H1 stacks two lines, buttons stack vertically, no orphan words
- ☐ Photo focal point set so warmest sky stays visible at mobile crop
- ☐ Color overlay set between 45–55% so text is legible but warmth shows through
- ☐ Site saved and published

Anything unclear? Ping Kevin before guessing. The hero is the highest-traffic moment on the site — better to ask than to ship something wrong.
